Dec 20, 2020 The Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department released additional surveillance images Thursday of the vehicle associated with a deadly shooting that was committed in the Dungan Crossing neighborhood of north Las Vegas. A description of the suspect vehicle was released Wednesday, but the authorities are still searching for more information about who was driving the vehicle and where it may have traveled. The driver, who is described as a male in his 20s and was wearing a red shirt, was driving a silver or gray Hyundai Genesis with black rims. The time the vehicle was last seen is about 4:44 p.m. Thursday. Anyone who spots the vehicle or knows more about the shooting should call detectives at 702-828-3591 or Metro Crime Stoppers at 702-828-3333. Transplacental carcinogenesis: role of the placenta. The role of the placenta in transplacental carcinogenesis is not yet fully understood. One possibility is that the fetus is exposed to carcinogens in utero, but this is not always the case. Another possibility is that the placenta is a passive intermediary in the transfer of carcinogens from the mother to the fetus. The third possibility is that the placenta is a major source of tumorigenic substances that are important in the process of transplacental carcinogenesis. We have shown 3da54e8ca3
